Why ClassMate

Not only are touchscreens an engaging teaching tool, they allow for flexible learning spaces. The ClassMate is platform independent, meaning it supports multiple operating systems (Windows, Mac, Linux & Chrome). This is an excellent feature due to the prevalence of BYOD (bring your own device) programs and diverse ICT needs amongst schools. Additionally, as computers become end of life, you can easily upgrade without losing the functionality of your touchscreen.

Why Touchscreens?

Everyday educators are competing for student's attention due to constant stimulation from devices such as smart phones and tablets. Instead of competing, why not embrace? Many educators have already taken this approach and shifted towards collaborative lessons that encourage active participation and student collaboration. Touchscreens facilitate this, allowing interactive presentations, annotation over digital content and access to educational apps.
